

WARNING!

YOUR HOUSE IS SUBJECT TO POTENTIAL FUTURE DAMAGE!

If you don't take immediate action you may have to pay the costs for past, present, and future repair damage to your home which wasn't built correctly.

You shouldn't have to pay for your builders mistake...

What is wrong with my house?

Based on the homes of your neighbors your builder likely has not built your home according to proper building standards. This means if you don't have damage yet, overtime and with windy weather conditions the odds are that you will have damage.

Have you noticed anything wrong with your home yet?

If you haven't that is a good thing and it is good that you haven't had to pay for anything yet. However, you can still be compensated for your house not being built correctly, so you don't have to cover the costs of future damage. We all know things break down over time, but they break down even faster when not built right.

-Damage from your neighbors homes

So what can you do? That's where we come in.

We fight for the little guy who is taken advantage of by big corporations and we hold them accountable for their actions.

Enumclaw LGI development residents win $2.3 million for breach of contract

- The Courier Herald

- Based on the previous awarded amount, our clients (your neighbors) received an average of over $47,000 in settlement.
- We are confident that we will win again for you. And if we do win you can sleep at night knowing that if the next storm takes your roof off you will have the funds available to cover the damage immediately without taking out loans.

To join your neighbors in this pursuit please email our Paralegal for the client agreement form or any other questions that you may have.
